

World Book Day

On Thursday, staff and pupils celebrated everything that is wonderful about books and reading. All staff received a 'literary' postcard and cards depicting children's book covers were secreted round school for pupils to find and claim a prize. Many staff entered into the spirit of the day by dressing up as book characters including a very big-eared BFG from Mr Coogan and a ferocious-looking Captain Hook from Mrs Millington along with at least 9 Wallys!

Pupils from years 7 and 8 visited the library throughout the day to redeem their World Book Day vouchers and collect their free book and to take part in quizzes. The annual 'design a book cover competition' will be judged and prizes awarded next week.

News from Technology

Well done, Brogan McKenzie in year 7 for her outstanding graphics homework. She created the most beautiful, impressive and inspiring mood board that went above and beyond what was asked of her.

Linguists of the Week

Harrison Gardner is making great effort in French and his work is really improving. He concentrates really well on the tasks and always does his best. Well done Harrison, keep it up!

Erin Veazey is an excellent linguist and is making wonderful progress in Spanish. Her written work is a pleasure to read! ¡Tu trabajo es estupendo!

Calling all linguists!

I highly recommend that all our pupils download the free app Duolingo on their phones, tablets or laptop.

It is fun and will allow you to make a lot of quick progress!

Accelerated Reader of the Week

Zinzile Ndiweni is this week's Accelerated Reader of the Week. She is putting lots of time and effort into her reading and this is reflected in her excellent quiz results. Zinzile is currently reading Jacqueline Wilson's Vicky Angel.

Stars of the Week

Congratulations to the latest excellent and inspiring Stars of the Week who received their certificates from Mrs Emmett last week.

Sainsbury's Vouchers

School is currently collecting Sainsbury's Active Kids 2017 vouchers. If you have any vouchers, please send them to the pastoral office, thanks!
